By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This nation's Memorial Day weekend moved into its most dangerous hours today — the time when millions of motorists will take to the roads for the tiresome trip home.

The counting of dead from violent causes began at 6 p.m. local time Friday and ends at midnight tonight—a total of 78 hours.

The death rate this holiday was moving at a faster rate than during the same three-day holiday in 1958 when 371 persons died in traffic accidents and a new record was set.

Statistic showed more than four persons were dying every hour this holiday.

The National Safety Council, whose statistics and predictions alert the country's drivers to caution at holiday time, was alternately pessimistic and optimistic. The new figures would surpass the 1958 record. The tone of the council's statements during the tabulation varied with the rate of violent deaths each hour.

"If drivers show good common sense there is reason to believe we can stay below the 1958 figures," a council spokesman said.

The council had estimated this holiday period would result in 375 deaths in traffic accidents.

The Associated Press, for comparative purposes, surveyed a 78-hour period from 6 p.m. May 13 until midnight Monday, May 16. The results showed 330 traffic deaths—20 more than the council estimated for a typical nonholiday period at this time of the year.

The 1959 Memorial Day weekend was two days and 310 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents. Eleven persons died in two fires over the weekend. Four elderly men died in a hotel fire at Algona, Iowa; seven persons died in an Omaha apartment house blaze.

Rejected Man Strangles Pretty Coed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say a rejected suitor strangled a beautiful coed and dumped her body in a fish pond during a house party early Sunday.

"I never got mad at a person in my life," officers quoted Emil S. Daruty, 22, an engineering student, as saying. "I never struck a person in my life. I don't know what came over me. I can't explain it."

He was booked on suspicion of murder in the slaying of Marianna Kathleen Hatch, 19, a student dental assistant at Los Angeles City College.

Police said Daruty, a crew-cut student at Pacific States University, readily admitted choking the girl in the kitchen during the party. Officers said scratches on his face indicated she had struggled desperately.

The girl's father, Collin Hatch, a maintenance man for Los Angeles city schools, said the couple had parted because of a difference in religions. Marianna was Presbyterian, Daruty an importer's son, Syrian Orthodox.

But her mother, Marian Hatch, vice principal of Gompers Junior High School, said Marianna had recently ended 3½ years' dating with Daruty because she "just wanted to date other fellows."

$100,000 Damage in Derailment

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP) — Fourteen cars of a Kansas City Southern freight train derailed near here Saturday, causing $100,000 damage and forcing extensive rerouting of KCS rail traffic.

The trucks were cleared at 2 a.m. Sunday and traffic began moving again. Trains had been rerouted through Poteau, Okla., to Ashdown.

The cars, loaded with an assortment of meat, canned goods, steel and machinery, derailed when a wheel broke, officials said. John Owen, KCS passenger agent, said very little of the cargo was lost, but that track and car damage was high.

It was the third KCS derailment in this area in 10 days. Twelve cars wrecked near Poteau, Okla., 10 days earlier. Two days later, 21 cars went off the track near Winthrop.

Challenges Arkansas' School Rating

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A State Education Department official has challenged figures of the National Education Assn. ranking Arkansas 50th among states in per-pupil spending for education.

A candidate for governor, H. E. Williams, called the NEA report "an unrepeatable tragedy."

NEA figures released yesterday peg per-pupil spending in Arkansas at $191 for this school year, a drop from $201 in 1959-60. Frank Cammady, a state Education Department statistics supervisor, said, however, that his per-pupil figure was $205.

Ex-County Resident Dies in Crash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Six traffic fatalities, one drowning and two shooting deaths over the weekend boosted to 15 the number of violent deaths in Arkansas last week. The Memorial Day holiday death toll stood at seven.

Eight persons died in traffic accidents during the week, three were shot to death, one drowned, one died of a snake bite, one was killed by a falling boom and one died of burns.

P. C. Stewart, about 55, a North Little Rock Negro, died late Sunday of cuts on his throat received when he plunged through the window after his car went out of control and went off Highway 67 near North Little Rock.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dragoo, 59, of Hugo, Okla., and Mrs. R. J. Allen, 52, of Bristol, Va., were killed at Hazen yesterday when cars driven by their husbands collided on Highway 70. Dragoo and Allen both were in good condition in a Stuttgart hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Dragoo formerly lived in Hempstead County.

Mrs. Nell Reed, 54 of Gastonia, N.C., was killed on state Highway 66 near Leslie in a one-car accident. She was a passenger in a car driven by William Kirkpatrick, also of Gastonia.

Buster Cummings of Minden La. died Saturday night after he was struck by a car driven by Bill Sharpe of Camden as he walked along Highway 79 near Camden.

Tommy Nollner, 16, of Fort Smith, drowned Saturday in Lee's Creek near Fort Smith.

Harry Cameron, about 50, and Mrs. Matiline Pearl Smith, 30, died after a shooting incident in El Dorado. The coroner ruled that Cameron took his own life after firing two bullets into Mrs. Smith. The shooting occurred at a rooming house.

Raymond Hilton Dies at Delight

Raymond Hilton, aged 51, died Saturday at Delight. He is survived by his father, Dr. A. D. Hilton, his stepmother, two brothers, Leon and Watson, Calif., Gary W. of Quinset Point, Va. two sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Layman of Camden and Mrs. Imogene Lindsey of Springfield, La.

Services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at Delight Methodist Church by the Rev. A. J. Lightfoot. Herndon-Cornelius is in charge of arrangements.

Russia Orders Planes to Hit 'Takeoff Bases'

MOSCOW (AP) — Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky declared today he has ordered Soviet rocket forces to strike at the takeoff base of any foreign plane violating Soviet airspace.

Marshal Malinovsky told a conference of Communist labor "shock workers" that this was a "lawful decision" because the foreign plane "might be armed with a hydrogen bomb."

Rhee Silent Over Leaving His Homeland

By HENRY HARTZENBUSH

HONOLULU (AP) — Tight-lipped Syngman Rhee stayed in seclusion today while South Korean officials castigated the deposed leader for leaving his homeland.

The 85-year-old former president and his Austrian-born wife moved into the beach home of Wilbur Choy, a close friend and prominent Honolulu architect. They declined all requests for interviews.

In the South Korean capital, the National Assembly summoned acting President Ihn Chung to explain why Rhee was allowed to leave.

The Hapdong news agency said 1,500 university students demonstrated in Taegu, South Korea's third largest city, to back their demands that Rhee be summoned home immediately and the Rhee government resign.

Rhee in a brief airport interview said he would go back but gave no dates.

Rhee left Korea as the vice minister of finance, Kim Yong Kap, told the Assembly 20 million dollars in foreign exchange had been improperly appropriated by Rhee while he was president.

Both Rhee and his wife called the accusation fantastic. Rhee said, "That's the first I heard of it."

There was speculation Rhee wanted to be out of his country during the next two months when South Korea's constitution will be revised.

Rhee stepped down April 26 in the wake of a series of demonstrations and violence in which several hundred persons were killed or injured.

As for returning home, Mrs. Rhee said, "Our dogs were left behind and they are waiting for us."

The Rhees brought six suitcases in their chartered four-engine plane. They cleared customs in 20 minutes. Their luggage was not opened.

The Rhees were met by C. C. Oh, Korean consul general, and B. Y. Choy, president of Dong Ji Hoi, a Korean association founded by Rhee years ago. Choy said he invited the couple here for a rest.

Rhee spent 25 years in Hawaii working for Korean independence from Japan. His pleas for independence finally became a part of United States objectives for a peaceful settlement in Asia after World War II.

Amount of Money Spent for Education in State Brought Into Race for Governor

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The amount of money spent in the state for education has been thrust into the Arkansas governor's race.

H. E. Williams, president of Southern Baptist College and one of five candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor, called a report ranking Arkansas 50th among states in per-pupil spending for education "an unspeakable tragedy."

He laid the blame on "the fourth term candidate"—Gov. Orval E. Faubus—saying he "may try to explain away the census decline but he cannot avoid full and even personal responsibility for the terrible drop in educational quality."

Williams, in a statement last night in Little Rock, referred to Census Bureau reports of a population loss for Arkansas.

The school figures, released by the National Education Assn. yesterday were challenged as too low by a state Education Department official.

Williams said, "Every teacher, parent and school child in Arkansas should rise up in indignation at such a calamity as this."

He said the Faubus administration claimed that the state's schools are improving, but added, "the present administration has said that public schools are not necessarily essential to the public welfare." He mentioned Amendment 52, a school-closing measure up for a vote in November which Faubus backed in the 1959 Legislature.

Hal Millsap said, through a spokesman, that the state income tax looms as a major issue in the campaign along with segregation, a fourth term for Faubus and the state's industrial development program. All except the tax have been cited by other candidates as key issues in the campaign.

Millsap is pledged to abolition of the state income tax.

"The Millsap spokesman also said some persons have not fully realized 'the implications of a fourth term,'" he noted that it would allow Faubus, through additional appointments to state boards and commissions, to influence these agencies "for possibly a decade." Faubus already has appointed a majority of the members of most state boards and commissions.

Millsap, touring northeast Arkansas, also reiterated in speeches Saturday at Osceola and Wilson that he is a segregationist, but that "our political and everyday lives must be governed by laws."

He also said radical elements on both sides of the integration controversy must be checked.

Faubus, Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett and Joe C. Hardin added no new statements over the weekend. Hardin moved into northeast Arkansas for visits today and tomorrow in Jonesboro. He also plans to visit Paragould, Blytheville, West Memphis and other cities before returning to Little Rock.

Man Behind the Scene in Turkey Is a Suicide

By GARVEN HUDGINS

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Naimik Gedik, generally known as the "evil genius" behind ousted Premier Adnan Menderes, committed suicide early today.

A brief communique from Ankara's martial law command said the 49-year-old ex-interior minister "threw himself out of a window of the Turkish army's war college following a nervous breakdown."

Reliable reports said Gedik left a letter to his wife saying, "I am leaving on a long journey. I do not believe I shall ever return."

As interior minister in the deposed Menderes government, Gedik directed the national police and their brutal campaign to repress student demonstrators in late April and early May against the Premier's strongarm rule.

A source at the war college reported Gedik got up from his cot shortly after midnight, diverted the attention of a guard and threw himself through a closed glass window to a paved courtyard four stories below.

Since the armed forces overthrew Menderes Friday, Gedik had been held at the war college along with Menderes, ousted President Celal Bayar, Foreign Minister Fatin Rustu Zorlu and about 100 other leading officials of the Menderes government.

The country's new military rulers reportedly started an airlift early today to move them to the isolated Marmara Sea island of Yassı Ada, site of a naval base, to foil any rescue attempt by die-hard supporters of the deposed Premier.

There were unconfirmed reports that refugees from neighboring Communist countries, known to be supporters of the Menderes regime, had been secretly armed during the weekend for an attempt to liberate the ex-Premier.

Turkey's new government, backed down today to drafting a political reform program and plans urgently needed to meet a growing economic crisis.

Summit Collapse Blamed on Stand

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), who will make the commencement address at Southern State College in Magnolia tonight, said Saturday that the west's firm stand on Berlin was a central factor in the recent summit collapse.

McClellan said the spy plane incident only provided an outward excuse for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to wreck the summit.

The senator said the state of internal political affairs in Russia and pressure from Red China were other factors in the conference's collapse. He added that espionage such as the spy plane is indispensable to this nation's defense.

Steel Mills Cutting Back Production

Nationally, mills are producing at about 65 per cent of capacity during the usual summer lull before orders start pouring in from new car manufacturers.

The Youngstown, Ohio, section will be operating at only 22 per cent of capacity this week. This is the lowest rate in Youngstown since the depression days in the 1930s.
Steelmen in the Youngstown area place the blame on a lack of orders for pipe, a big product in Youngstown mills, and large backlogs of steel.
An additional 3,000 workers are slated for layoffs in Youngstown this week. Thousands of others are scheduled to work fewer hours.
U.S. Steel has laid off many workers in the Pittsburgh region. Facilities have been idled at U.S. Steel's Clairton, Pa., and Donora, Pa., works, and have been curtailed at its Edgar Thomson plant in Braddock, Pa.
Sharon Steel is suspending all iron and steel production for at least one week at its steelworks in Farrell, Pa.
Production in the Buffalo, N.Y., area is down to 60.9 per cent. Production in Birmingham, Ala., mills has been tapering off for six weeks and is scheduled to drop to 66.7 per cent this week.
U.S. Steel said its Fairless Hills plant at Morrisville, Pa., will be closed until June 5 because of a shortage of orders, idling about 450 maintenance and production workers. About 100 employees will

4 Persons Claim Money for Reward

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Four persons who said they contributed to the arrest and conviction of four men implicated in Little Rock's Labor Day bombings have asked for $25,000 in reward money.

The reward was posted by the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce two days after the blasts damaged the business office of the mayor, school board headquarters, and the station wagon of fire chief Gannalley.

Gordon Sullivan, a Little Rock attorney, said Saturday his firm has been retained to represent the four reward seekers. He identified them as Edwin Lee Main, Lynn Doyle Mulherin, Ray Lee Spillers, and Marlene Duval. They were not further identified.

Mulherin and Spillers were witnesses in the trials of three of the five men charged in the bombings. Sullivan said they provided police with information leading to the arrest of J. D. Sims, a 35-year-old truck driver.

Sims implicated Jesse Raymond Perry, 24; Samuel Graydon Beavers, 49; John Taylor Coggins, 39, and E. A. Lauderdale, 48.

Sims pleaded guilty to bombing the board offices and received a five-year prison sentence. Perry and Lauderdale were convicted in the same bombing and Coggins was convicted in the blast at Mayor Werner Knop's office. Each received a three-year term. The cases are on appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Beavers has not been brought to trial.

Mulherin and Spillers testified they were in a parked car near the school board headquarters. They said they saw a man run to a car and drive away shortly before they heard an explosion. Neither identified Sims, but their description of his auto is believed to have aided police in identifying him.

Statements by Sims, Perry and Coggins read into court records called the blasts part of a Ku Klux Klan plot to scare Little Rock for accepting token integration. Eight Negroes attended two once-white high schools this year.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl of Seventeen Dates Married Man

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am 17. For three months I've been dating a man who is 27, has been married eight years and has a son seven years old. His wife always says she is going to leave him or tells him to leave her. He is waiting until he builds her a home—now almost finished—then is leaving.

We dated once a week, then I refused to go out with him—I being a minor and he a married man. But I can't stop thinking of him. He says he thinks only of me. My parents are against this. I know it is wrong.

Dear N.V.: Today is Memorial Day. Make it a memorable day for you by putting this married man out of your life. Face the facts. He still lives with his wife, has a child by her and is building her a home. Granted it won't be easy to put him out of your life. But—it will be harder if you don't!

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My widowed sister is in her early fifties, unable to work and has no income. She lives with me. As I have three children it is hard to give her the things she needs. Isn't there some way she can receive a pension? She worries about being a burden to me.—Mrs. M.

Dear Mrs. M.: This matter should be taken up with your nearest Social Security office. Look in the telephone directory under United States Government, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Social Security Administration. If your sister has previously worked, she may be eligible for disability benefits. Whether or not the pension is granted, your sister should busy herself at something for her own peace of mind. I am sending you two leaflets, "Turn Your Spare Time Into Cash," and "Women at Work," for you to pass along.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

After four years of married life my husband and I still get into disputes over his former girl friends. I realize that the past is past but every now and then an old associate of his pops up to hurt me. Last Sunday at church a strange lady introduced herself to me as the mother of his former girl friend and immediately began questioning me about what I did and so forth. When I told her I was a graduate nurse, she turned to my husband and said, "S— (naming her daughter) is now working on a Master's Degree. She's getting better training." Then to me, "I must write S— and tell her I met you."

I was deeply hurt to think a strange woman had belittled me, especially the mother of my husband's former girl friend. Why do his former friends intentionally hurt me? What have I done wrong? Has my husband been wrong in association with such people? What is the solution?—Depressed

Dear Depressed: Take this carping as a compliment. You evidently walked off with the prize. You have him, he has you—which is all that really matters. Be thankful, be loving and keep

Boys State Hears SML Director

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Weak city governments are to blame for Arkansas' declining population, in the eyes of Glenn Zimmerman, executive director of the Arkansas Municipal League.

Zimmerman, speaking yesterday to the annual Boys State at nearby Camp Robinson, said nearly bankrupt city governments can't provide service residents demand. This, he said, means the state can't attract industry and the lack of taxes and jobs afforded by industry results in the state being unable to hold its population.

Each new million dollar industry would pay $12,000 in real property tax, $8,000 of which would go to schools, he said, and for each 100 employees hired, 174 new residents would come to town and four new retail stores would open.

Zimmerman also participated in a discussion of city government forms before Boys State elected mayors for 27 mythical cities.

Today the youths at the exercise in government name county office candidates. State officers, including a governor for 1961, will be elected Thursday.

James A. Garfield was the last U. S. President to be born in a log cabin.

Orioles Build Up Lead in the American Loop

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

If somebody doesn't clip those Baltimore Orioles soon they are liable to fly out of reach in the American League. By winning 22 of their last 31 games, they have opened up a 2-game lead.

Steve Barber, one of the "kids," did it in the first game Sunday with a six-inning performance against Boston for a 6-1 victory. Connie Hanson, another youngster, tied up the second game with a two-run homer in the ninth but it was "old folks" Gene Hauling who singled home the winning run for a 5-4 decision.

It took some ninth-inning heroics by Jimmy Piersall to keep Cleveland as close as two games behind the Orioles. Piersall snapped Detroit's six-game winning streak with a three-run home run in the ninth inning of the second game for a 6-4 verdict. The Tigers had won the opener 6-5 on two-hit relief pitching by ex-Phil Ray Semproch.

New York finally subdued Washington 6-4 in 11 innings on Hector Lopez' two-run homer after Bob Turley and his successors had blown a 3-0 lead in the ninth.

Pittsburgh moved into a first-place tie with San Francisco in the National League by handing Philadelphia its sixth straight defeat, 6-5, while St. Louis' Larry Jackson was beating the Giants 4-1 in a game cut to five innings by rain. Cincinnati edged past Milwaukee into third place, shading the Braves 4-2 on Vada Pinson's two-run homer in the ninth.

Duke Snider's two homers accounted for all the runs in Los Angeles' 4-0 victory over Chicago. The Orioles pulled out all the stops to take the second game from Boston after Barber's fine pitching in the first. Bobby Thomson's homer was the only run off the 21-year-old left-hander. In the second game, Boston took a 4-2 edge into the ninth. Then a single by Willie Tasby and Hansen's homer tied the score. A single by Clint Courtney, a sacrifice, an intentional pass and Woodling's pinch single provided the winner for Mill Pappas over Tom Borland.

Henry M. Stanley, who became a world famous newspaper correspondent, discovered the Congo and found Livingstone and was knighted by Queen Victoria, once traveled in Arkansas, clerked in a store and joined the Confederate Army from this state. His real name was John Rowlands.

Speedway to Feature Try by a Rookie

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Sensational rookie Jim Hurtubise, beset by assorted mechanical ailments in his Traveler Special, today challenged an almost legendary field of veteran drivers in the $350,000 Memorial Day auto race.

The more avid speed fans, of a crowd that may reach 250,000, had been lined up for days on approaches to the 51-year-old track.

Police estimated 330,000 people jammed downtown Indianapolis Saturday night for the annual race parade, featuring elaborate floats and pretty girls. Thousands tramped the Speedway grounds

Sunday in the final round of a $50,000 golf tournament, newest feature of race week activities.

But the big show remained the 44th running of the world's richest auto race on a relatively flat two and one-half mile course that has claimed 50 lives.

Ward had a new Watson car similar to last year's winner; Bryan was driving a distinctive light-weight car built by George Salih, creator of the 1957 and 1958 winner. Ruttman was in the proven Zink Special, another Watson job, in which Pat Flaherty led part of last year's race before he crashed on the main straightaway.

The drivers themselves, in an annual banquet for men who have gone all the way in the race at speeds over 100 m.p.h., voted Jim Rathmann the favorite. Only 31, he was starting in his 11th "500" in the last 12 years and had finished second three times, including a 23-second loss to Ward last year. He had a new Watson, too.

The prize money distribution will not be announced until the

Winners in Local Golf Tournament

Sixty-two golfers took part in the first golf tournament of the year at the Hope Country Club Sunday.

Jim Smith, the 1950 Club Champion, came through with an even par 68 to take top honors in the Championship Flight, followed by Henry Fenwick who shot a 72.

The next golfing event will be the Pro-Am "Tournament" which will be held on June 12. All golfers must sign up in the pro shop of the Country Club on or before Wednesday June 8 if they plan to participate. Scores from the May 29 tournament will be used to determine the pairings for the Pro-Am Tourney. Players who did not participate in that tournament must turn in a qualifying score no later than June 8 if they expect to play in the Pro-Am.

Claims Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has signed a bill to permit the Air Force to settle claims of over $5,000 arising from the crash of a B47 bomber at Little Rock, Ark., March 31.

The bill removes for the Little Rock crash a $5,000 ceiling on claims. Congressional officials have estimated property damage alone would total about $500,000.

Two civilians and three crewmen were killed as a result of the crash, which damaged more than 100 homes.

Victory dinner Monday night. It totaled a record $338,150 last year and Ward won $106,850, another record.

Chapter 13
THE STORY: People of Signal wonder whether Ry Buckner, who returned to town from prison to get the money he was accused of stealing, or to settle scores with Duke Jordan, whose testimony helped convict Ry. Buckner gets a horse and a gun and tries to out of town. He spies Pru Lane going in the same direction.

"Hello, Ry," Pru Lane said. The greeting was warm, but a shadow lay in her eyes, not of fear or alarm but of worry, and he guessed that his coming had put it there. He recalled Billy Larb's riding into town and accosting her on the mercurial porch. Probably she'd ridden out while he'd been arranging with Jake Hollis for a horse and gear and a gun.

He saw no sense in sparring. "Pru," he asked, "would you be here because of Duke?"

He had realized last night that she had become a pretty girl. He saw now that she was as pretty as Dorcas, but in a different way. Dorcas had a cool blonde beauty. Pru's was a warmer loveliness.

She turned as intense as at their parting last night. "Ry, you were wondering what was going on around Signal. I told you all I knew at the time, about the Strip and Lark Rigby's threat. This morning I heard the rest of it—how Lark got killed by Duke Jordan. You were in town, so you must have heard it, too. You're hunting Duke, aren't you?"

"I'm hunting Duke."

"To see him in prison or hanged because Boxed J put you in prison, Ry?"

Did everyone believe that no greater need could drive a man than the need for vengeance? And with this annoyance, he came was also hurt. Whatever he had expected from Pru Lane, he had not expected this. He swung down from the saddle. "Pru," he said, "I told you last night I was looking for something I lost five years ago. Isn't that good enough?"

"And I told you to go away because there's nothing here for you. It's still not too late."

He had a flash of understanding. "Was your concern with me, Pru? Or with Duke, or Dorcas, or both of them?"

Her eyes dropped, and she flicked at her boot with the clean of everything but the need. Then she looked up at him. "All right, Ry," she said. "You're bound to find out a few things anyway if you stay around here. I'm considering. That was because I had gained the house. He went real trouble was shaping between Hatchet and Boxed J, and one of the Lane family th with Boxed J now."

"But what has that got to do with me?"

She bit her lower lip. "I guess you'll have to have it square between the eyes, Ry." She took a note from her pocket and unfolded it. "Billy Larb fetched this to me about noon. It's from Dorcas. It says, 'Ride out to the old Brewster place as soon as you can, but don't let anyone know where you are going and why. I'll meet you there and hope to have a preacher and a second witness come, too. I am marrying Duke today. Please trust me and do as I say.'"

He heard the message, but at the end a red haze was swimming before his eyes and Pru's voice had become a blur. He knew now what business Dorcas must have had at the courthouse with Oliver Landers. A marriage license! He said, "So that's why she quit writing me at Deer Lodge!"

Pru put the note away. "I didn't want to do this to you, Ry."

He found himself trembling, and he stared at her without really seeing her. "I only wanted to look Duke Jordan straight in the eye and ask him a question," he said. "I wanted him to tell me whether he framed me into prison, and if so, why. After that, I would know what I'd have to do. But now he's got two things to account for."

She came close and clutched at the lapels of his coat. "Ry," she said. "I didn't understand! You were giving him the benefit of the doubt, but now I've shaken that. Ry, think. Can you be sure when you blame him? Is it Duke marrying Dorcas—or is it Dorcas marrying Duke?"

"The same thing, Pru."

He saw a startled look cross her face, and he thought it came from what he had said or what he had been about to say. He had been to intend on trailing Pru to watch his back, and Hatchet had sighted him, and he had become the hunter. He sprang away from Pru as dirt spouted at his feet. The hills caught the sharp report of a six shooter and sent it echoing.

The gun spoke again. He heard the high, thin whine of the bullet. Pru turned and darted for the ruin behind him. Buckner's horse pitched and broke free and he went galloping toward the valley, been out there about two months hard after Pru's mount. Buckner now.
